BCO Regional Award Winner 2010

Tanfield, Edinburgh
Thursday 23 September 2010, 17:00 - 19:00

The BCO invites you to visit the 2010 Scottish Regional winner of Refurbished/Recycled Workplace, Tanfield in Edinburgh.

This former Standard Life administrative centre, sited between the Water of Leith and the Royal Botanic Gardens was brought into commission in 1991, but became redundant only a matter of 15 years later. With its innovative but highly bespoke layout, designed around the needs of its original owner occupier, this has been a mammoth task to adapt the building to suit a multi-occupancy brief.

The development team set out to carve a new street through the centre of the building, employing an elongated light well to bring much needed natural light into the centre of the building plus a generous galleried route to gain access to a range of office suites. A new top floor of office space opens onto the building's hidden gem, a restored rooftop garden.

Improvements to the energy efficiency of the building were achieved by introducing imaginative, but simple automatically controlled lighting systems.
